The Capitolian

1950

FRANKFORT HIGH SCHOOL
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

Dedication

May 25, 1950
F. D. Wilkinson

It is with deepest gratitude and appreciation that we dedicate the Capitolian of 1950 to our principal, Mr. F. D. Wilkinson. His guidance and leadership in student activities have added greatly to the development and prestige of Frankfort High School.

In Memoriam

MRS. CLARENCE C. GAYHART

A Faithful Patron of F. H. S.

Foreword

In the Capitolian of 1950 we have attempted to compile a book emphasizing interests and activities of the students, and through this, we hope we have presented a comprehensive picture of life at Frankfort High.

We sincerely hope that in the Capitolian of 1950 we have given the student a full and satisfying record of his days at Frankfort High.

To The Seniors:

Graduation is a time of rejoicing over a job well done but a tinge of sadness is mingled with the happiness because one chapter of your life is completed.

We regret your leaving because you have made a great contribution to the life of Frankfort High School, but we rejoice with you over your achievements.

I want to extend to each of you my best wishes for your success.

Sincerely,

C. D. Redding

Class Will

We, the Seniors of Frankfort High, having acquired all possible knowledge offered by this institution; knowing our lives and habits will be a shining example to seniors yet to come, being as sound of body as can be expected under existing conditions, and having a mental capacity that can hardly be mentioned without embarrassment, do hereby make our last will and testament in form and manner as follows:

- I, Jeroline Baker, take my temper with me. Nobody wants it.
We, June Ballinger, Mattie May, and Betty Ford will our ability to be seen and not heard to Roberta Miller, Jane Snyder, and Mary Nash Cox.
I, Kathleen Black, will my excess height to W. T. Hopgood.
We, David Booze and Tommy Current, bequeath our energetic ways to Henry Bennett.
I, Billy Joe Bowman, leave to sell my potato chips.
We, Harry Brinkmeyer, Charles Hudson and Bruce Parrish, pass on our ability to keep the weaker sex in a trance to Ed Martin.
I, Betty Brown, leave my reducing secrets to Della Cunningham.
I, Russell Brown, bequeath my melodious voice to J. R. "Red" Adcock.
I, Barbara Cardwell, leave with Jack.
I, Billy Chilton, reluctantly leave Paula.
I, Jo Ann Clark, leave my brother, Charlie, to carry on.
I, Edythe Crady, will my demure ways to Betty Bos Hodgkins.
I, Todd Crutcher, bequeath my beautiful auburn locks to Eugene Currens.
We, Gladys Cundiff, Barbara Spurlock, and Mary Redmon, leave the echoes of our singing in the halls of F. H. S. to Ned Gretter.
I, Barbara Finnell, bestow my ability to catch any out-of-town men upon Betty Marcus.
I, Gene Flynn, leave some of my loot won in the magazine sales to Paynter Tufts, hoping it'll help him.
I, Norman Flynn, leave my position as manager of the football team to be carried on by Hugh Crump.
I, Olga Gordon, leave my glory with F. H. S. and take my Powers with me.
I, Yvonne Hardman, leave my dignity to anyone who thinks he can master it.
I, Adriel Harrod, will my memories of Detention Hall to next year's freshman class.
We, Jane Warren and Mildred Priestley, leave our domestic ability to Betty Lois Baldwin and Nancy Sue Quire.
I, Jo Nell Harrod, will my reserved seat in Le Compte's to any freshman girl who has a weakness for soda-jerks.
I, Martha Jane Harrod, bequeath my sophisticated ways to Marcellyn Burman.
I, Wanda Hedden Hellard, leave my title of "Mrs." with Cupid, to be bestowed upon some member of the Class of '51.
I, Edna Jo Hill, leave my beautiful sun tan to Dorothy Thompson.
I, Don Hulette, bestow my good looks, shining appearance, and glowing personality upon Joe Vaughn. Please handle with care!
I, Ann Hulker, bestow my excess pounds upon Joanne Ralston; may she make the most of them.
I, Joan Hutcherson, leave J. C. Milton to Jerry Taylor. She's tried SO HARD!
I, Sarah Jones, leave to join my buddies at D. D.'s.
I, Lois Krinsky, will my ability to find out all the latest news to Lois Ueltschi.

Class Will

- I, Bobby Lancaster, bequeath my blushing technique to H. C. Gardenhire. Hope he will know how to use it.
- I, Doris Locker, leave nothing. I'm taking everything with me.
- I, Billy D. McDonald, leave my ability to upset the equilibrium of the library to Bruce Eads.
- I, Charles McDonald, leave Geraldine, I'm taking Betty Brown with me.
- I, Jane McDonald, leave for Bobby's sake.
- I, Jackie Moore, will my interest in Good Shepherd to some enterprising junior boy.
- I, Earl O'Nan, bestow my crowning upon Ned Pacey.
- We, Bee Noel and Jack Perkins, leave. Don't you think it's about time?
- I, Elizabeth Parrish, leave to bask in the Florida sunshine. Any typists on the Capitolian Staff needs a-----LONG REST.
- I, Vinson Parsons, leave F. H. S. teachers without an errand boy.
- I, Ronnie Rhody, leave my ability to befuddle teachers to Baby Taylor-maybe he'll stay eligible.
- I, Jack Roberts, leave in my little red jalopy, and I'm taking no books with me.
- I, Edmund Rodman, leave the chemistry department without anyone to set up experiments.
- I, Roe Rogers, leave my ten-gallon hat to keep the Western spirit alive at F. H. S.
- I, Betty Sandifer, leave my good disposition to Lynn Iris Hulette.
- I, Margie Sandifer, will be bouncing steps to Mary Frances Bell.
- I, Donald Slaughter, leave early. I've done enough time already.
- I, Ann Snyder, will my ability to always argue with Mr. Wilkinson to next year's geometry class.
- I, Jerry South, bestow 15 MIGHTY POUNDS upon Orville Threlkeld.
- I, Schuyler Stevens, will my bow and arrow to Jimmy Blackburn to use in pursuing his duties as Cupid.
- I, Gordon Taylor, leave my peaches and cream complexion to anyone who promises to take good care of it. Apply early.
- I, Jack Thompson, will my position as basketball bench-warmer to Ronnie Ueltschi.
- I, Betty Lynn Turner, leave my unexcelled tardy record to Ross O'Nan.
- I, Martha Watts, must leave something. I can't take everything with me.
- I, Lloyd Russell, leave hoping to join Coach Bryant's Wildcats. My ability I pass onto Bill Macklin.

In witness thereof, we, the Class of '50, have to this our will, set our hand and seal this day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifty.

Class Prophecy

CBS reporter ANN HULKER giving a special report on the famous people at the centennial celebration of the Kentucky Derby.

"It's a great day at the track, folks. This May day is one of the most beautiful I've seen in many years. Today marks the 100th anniversary of the Kentucky Derby, the most famous horse race in the world. People have come from far and near to see the best horses in the country run and also to see the many celebrities that have come to this celebration.

Beside me in the broadcasting booth is that dean of all American sportscasters, JACK PERKINS, and his lovely wife, BARBARA CARDWELL PERKINS, who is a leader in Kentucky society. He will give his account of the race today. What a day it must be for COLONEL HARRY BRINKMEYER! Today is his first year as head of Churchill Downs, and he is doing a wonderful job. He is in his box now with the popular bachelor governor, BRUCE PARRISH. Governor Parrish has been seen often lately with the gorgeous Conover model, YVONNE HARDMAN, and she is here with him today. The governor's private secretary, BETTY FORD, tells me that he plans to run for president in the next election. If he does, rumor has it that BEE NOEL will run as Vice-President. ADRIEL HARROD, the president of the L & N railroad, is talking with them. He plans to build a new railroad terminal at Frankfort, Kentucky. Architect TODD CRUTCHER will design the building, EDNA JO HILL will plan the gardens surrounding it, and they are negotiating with artist CHARLES HUDSON to paint the murals for the lobby. Many of the famous personages here today are graduates of Frankfort High School, most of them being members of the class of 1950. For instance, the FLYNN brothers, GENE and NORMAN, now own the Packard automobile plant, and have controlling interest in the automobile industry. I see BILLY D. MCDONALD, who has just returned from South America, where he built the famous bridge across the Amazon River. A wave of applause has gone up from the spectators. RUSSELL BROWN, the handsome singer of stage, screen, and radio, and BETTY BROWN, the comedienne who is so popular on television have entered their box. Philanthropist KATHLEEN BLACK has just announced that she would build a new clubhouse here in memory of Colonel Matt Winn. OLGA GORDON is here today with her husband, a famous basketball coach. JANE WARREN, a representative in Congress, has just entered her box. She has just introduced a bill to have the picture of the present Secretary of the Treasury on the new dollar bill. Of course, that person is none other than GORDON TAYLOR. I notice that GENERAL EARL O'NAN, a central figure in a recent Senate investigation, is here in all his splendor; with him is CAPTAIN JO ANN CLARK of the WAVES. I hear that CHARLES MCDONALD, the poet laureate of Kentucky, will be here today. He has just published "Spell of the Kentucky", a book of poems. The cartoonist, ANN SNYDER, did the illustrations for the book. Gossip has it that she is to marry a young New York millionaire soon. Later you will hear from RONNIE RHODY, who recently rewrote the English dictionary. In publisher JACK ROBERT'S box is VINSON PARSONS, the well-known movie producer. He plans to make a film based on the life of the famous Notre Dame coach, JACKIE MOORE. ROE ROGERS, the singing cowboy movie star is visiting Mr. Roberts. I see that MARTHA HARROD, the gossip columnist on Mr. Roberts paper, is there, too. Seated beside her is the best-dressed woman in the United States, JANE MCDONALD. Most of her clothes are designed by MARY REDMON. BARBARA FINNELL, who recently became dean of Vassar College, is here for the week-end. MILDRED PRIESTLEY, editor of Life Magazine, has as her guests JEROLINE BAKER, chief stockholder of J. J. Newberry stores, and MARGY SANDIFER, the famous interior decorator. DAVID BOOZE, president of the First National Bank of Louisville, and his private secretary, BARBARA SPURLOCK, are talking to SARAH JONES, Louisville's police judge. In another box is JO NELL HARROD, who is a pharmacist's mate. Her husband owns a large chain of drug stores. With her in the box is LOIS KRINSKY, who manufactures Krinsky watches and BETTY LYNN TURNER, who has just returned from Paris where she did fashion illustrations for some of the leading French designers. DON HULETTE, the country's leading horse breeder, is looking over the horses. Will he be able to pick the winner today? Maybe that is what he is telling WHITEY SLAUGHTER, manager of A & P Stores in Kentucky. Whitey is well enough to attend the races, but requires his nurse, BETTY SANDIFER, to attend him. His doctor is the brilliant DR. ROBERT LANCASTER. Down by the fence discussing the races are BILLY JOE BOWMAN, the potato chip king, SCHUYLER STEVENS, the big game hunter, JACK THOMPSON, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and EDMUND RODMAN, head of the Atomic Research Commission. The favorite today is "Flying Ebony", a horse owned by JUNE BALLINGER, founder of the famous cosmetics firm that bears her name. TOMMY CURRENT, one of the best trainers in the country, is in charge of her horses, DORIS LOCKER and MATTIE MAY are here today. Their new book "What's Cooking" has just been released. It contains many famous Kentucky recipes. I see that ELIZABETH PARRISH is here. She has just returned from Russia. She is on the embassy Staff in Moscow. Chief Justice JERRY SOUTH has taken time off from the Supreme Court to attend the Derby. He is here with BILL CHILTON, president of the KEA and one of the most prominent educators in this country. GLADYS CUNDIFF, whose husband owns several large horse farms here, has just scratched "Fleetwood", her derby entry. She has been in New York, busy with plans for sponsoring pianist EDYTHE CRADY'S appearance at Carnegie Hall. LLOYD RUSSELL, one of football's greats, has just arrived. One familiar face will be missing today, Princess Caufield Windsor, the former JOAN HUTCHERSON. She is resting in a hospital on the Riviera after a tooth extraction. The band is tuning up to play "My Old Kentucky Home." MARTHA WATTS, famed songbird of the air waves, will lead the song. It won't be long now until the race we have all been waiting for will begin. This is certainly a day of days, folks. It will be a long time before so many famous Kentuckians will be assembled in one place. This day will be long remembered. The horses are now coming to the post, some calm, others nervous. Any minute now we will hear the famous words, "They are off!" given by sports commentator Jack Perkins.

Thumbs down! This indicates the status of the twenty-four slaves kneeling at the feet of the Roman People, whose jovial expressions predict a hard period of slavery for them. This servitude started one day in November when the slaves were being summoned to Mt. Olympus to suffer the wrath of the gods in an assembly program entitled "Ye Gods and Little Slaves". Picturesque costumes distinguished beautiful Venus, playful Pan, Stygian Pluto, Mischievous Cupid, lame Vulcan, and all the other heavenly throng at the palace of King Jupiter and jealous Juno where they reclined on billowy clouds discussed the conduct of the initiates, and punished them accordingly.

One of the highlights of National Latin Week was the annual Roman banquet attended by the Roman People in characteristic costumes. The slaves were auctioned off to wealthy Romans whom they served until they were granted their freedom and elevated to the coveted position of Roman people, enjoying the rights and privileges of full citizenship.

The 1949 project of helping to bring a Latvian Displaced Persons family to America has resulted in unbounded joy for the attractive Zintnieks family, located in Shelby County, and for the club. Mrs. Zintnieks' visit to Frankfort High School to lecture on her native Baltic country, her experiences in a German Camp, and her happiness in her new homeland brought the realization of the club's dream in their international project.

Pan American Club

OFFICERS

President . . . . .	Emily Harp
Vice President . . . . .	Bill Curlin
Secretary . . . . .	Bob Bagby
Treasurer . . . . .	Ronnie Ueltschi

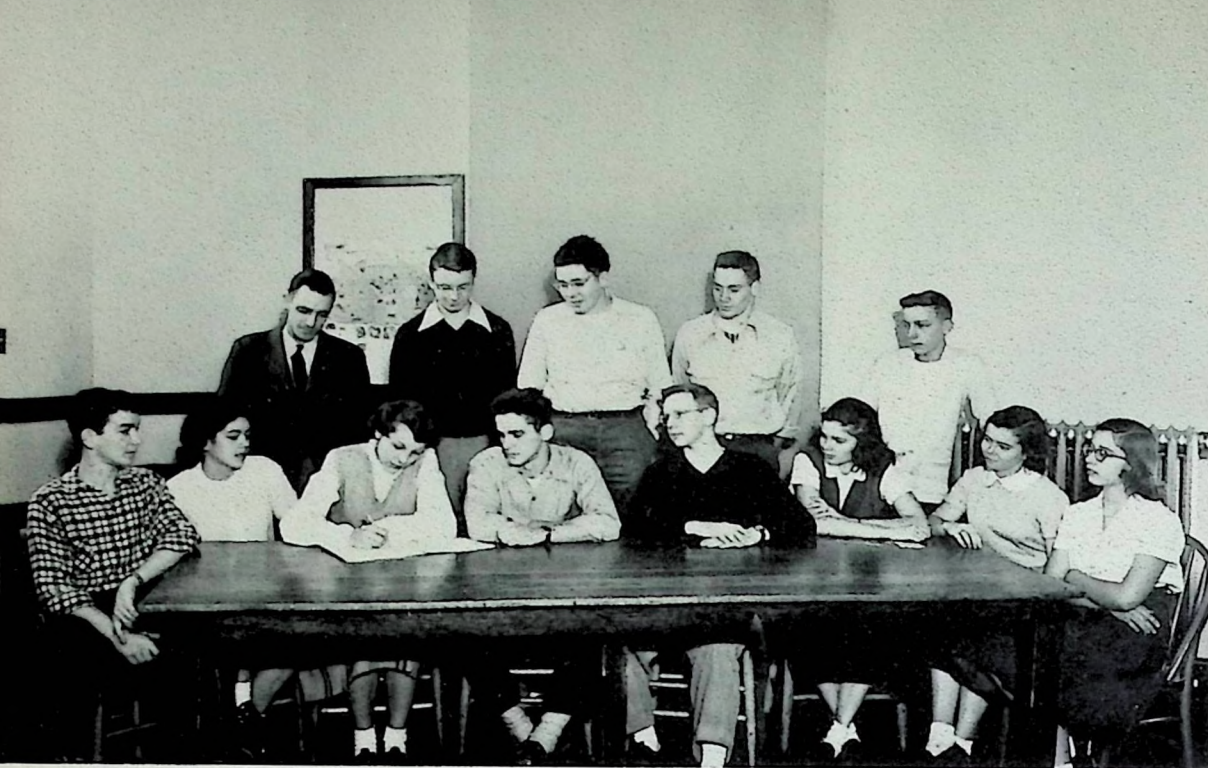

The Pan-American Club is a Spanish Class Club and All Spanish students are members of the club. As only two years of Spanish are offered, a student who has completed the two years and wants to retain membership in the club may do so.

Pan-American means the Americas together and symbolizes the continental solidarity which was meant so much to the Western Hemisphere. The motto of the club is: Quien habla dos lenguas vale dos hombres, which stresses the two dominant languages Spanish and English.

Spanish students through the Pan-American Club are affiliated with The International Students Society which promotes correspondence and other good will activities among the students of the 21 American Republics. The members study the lives, customs, literature, art and music of the other countries through picture shows, magazines, newspapers, letters, records and other aural-oral aids.

The main emphasis of all club activities is on better understanding and greater language efficiency.

Student Council

President . . . . . Jack Moore
 Vice President . . . Billy D. McDonald
 Secretary . . . . . Betty Sandifer
 Treasurer . . . . . Gene Ecton Smith

"The purpose of the Frankfort Student Council," as set forth in the preamble of its constitution, "shall be for the betterment of relations between students and faculty; to provide methodical and orderly channels for student thought and action; to accustom students to live together agreeably; to provide opportunities for the development of leadership and to advance all causes which contribute to the best interests of the school community."

Twelve members, three from each class, compose the Student Council. The president of this body was chosen in a school-wide election climaxed by campaign speeches made by the two candidates, Jack Moore and Billy D. McDonald. Mr. F. D. Wilkinson, principal, is the faculty advisor.

Among the projects of the council this year have been the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, intra-mural basketball, a magazine sales campaign, and sending a delegate to the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Student Councils held at Fort Knox.

National Honor Society

President . . . . . Jo Nell Harrod
 Vice President . . . . . Jack Moore
 Sec. & Treas . . . . . Martha Watts

Frankfort High School confers no higher honor than membership in the National Honor Society, which gives recognition to those students who have most nearly attained the principles of true education. The Frankfort High School Chapter of this society is limited to 15 per cent of the Senior Class. The officers are selected from that 5 per cent who obtained membership in their Junior year.

The club emblem is a gold pin in the shape of a keystone, with the flaming torch in its center. At the base of the keystone are the letters C.S.L.S., representing the four cardinal objectives: Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. The pledge, taken by all new members, is: "I pledge myself to uphold the high principles of this society and to make its ideals the ideals of my school and of my life."

The Spoken Word Club

President . . . . . Betty Sandifer
 Vice President . . . . . Ann Hulker
 Secretary . . . . . Jo Nell Harrod
 Treasurer . . . . . John Blackburn

The Spoken Word Club underwrites all speech activities and stands eager and willing to serve the school, the community and the student body at any and all times.

The club feels that each student in the school is a potential member of the speech department and makes every effort to induce students to build, of their own volition, a varied and purposeful program of active speech participation.

The members of the club enjoy participation in all speaking events at invitational and regional tournaments. In the three years of the clubs existence they have sent into state tournaments, with superior rating, representatives in oratory, monologue, debate, discussion, extemporaneous speaking, senior interpretation, junior interpretation, senior poetry, junior poetry and radio. They have won top ratings in the state in the first seven of the aforementioned.

For three years Frankfort contestants in oratory, monologue and extemporaneous speaking have been eligible to represent Kentucky in national competition. In 1947 they attended the meet in Jennings, Missouri, in 1948 the meet in Canton, Ohio, in 1949, due to lack of financial support, they were unable to attend.

In civic service, members welcome the opportunity to appear before civic clubs, to make public appearances in behalf of the community chest and polio drives and to contribute fully and freely to the church youth programs.

The club furnishes assembly chairmen, conducts opening exercises, presents several program, produces a one-act play for open house during national education week, offers radio programs over W.F.K.Y. and sends story tellers to the grade schools at Christmas and Thanksgiving.

The club's motto is "we learn by doing" and they try to put the motto into practical application.

The National Forensic League

Membership in The National Forensic League can be obtained only by earning 20 points through personal participation in a number of live speaking experiences. Four degrees are awarded in accord with the points earned--Merit, Honor, Excellence, and Distinction.

The emblem of the organization is a platinum plated key symbolizing the unlocking and freeing of the powers of expression and personality. The octagonal shape of the main part of the emblem is symbolical of the many angles from which a question may be studied. The jeweled eye, emerald, sapphire, ruby or diamond, according to the degree of attainment, symbolizes the search for truth. The lamp symbolizes the light which study will throw upon all questions.

The colors of the club are red, white and blue. Red, a symbol of the courage it takes to be a leader and to uphold the things that are right and just; White, a symbol of truth; Blue, a symbol of loyalty to home, school, church, and chapter.

Forensic activities, in addition to developing capable citizens and able leaders develop good sports. Speech contest result in winners and losers, but all are better speakers and better persons for having participated. Good sports accept defeat gracefully and genuinely recognize the accomplishment of another. The National Forensic League prepares young people for purposeful living.

The Frankfort High School chapter received its national charter in 1947. Since then Frankfort High has forged steadily ahead in state competition and now stands near the top in number of members and degrees awarded. For the last two years Frankfort's Chapter has made the national honor roll.

Frankfort Debate Clubs

President . . . . .	Jimmy Boyle
Vice President . . . .	John Blackburn
Secretary . . . . .	Jo Nell Harrod
Treasurer . . . . .	Paula Thomas

"Stronger than any other group, tougher in intellectual fiber, keener in intellectual interest, better equipped than others to battle with coming problems in the adult life for which they are preparing are the debaters--the students, who, apart from their regular studies band themselves together for intellectual controversy with each other and with their friends from other schools."

The above quote, fundamental belief of the Frankfort High School Debate Club, together with the club motto--"Debating for Everyone" explain, to some extent, the keen interest in debating and the excellent record chalked up by the Frankfort Club.

In the three years of its existence the club has twice sent teams to regional finals to lost by one vote. In 1949 Frankfort's teams were co-champions of the region and third in the state.

The club's purpose is defined as the development of civic literacy among boys and girls. The method places participation above perfection.

Growing is the key word. The debate program is not dedicated to winning, nor to point getting, but rather to the maximum growth of each member through satisfying speaking experience.

All State Chorus

The All-State Chorus is composed of high school students from schools throughout Kentucky. This year's chorus was composed of 1,000 voices, the largest in its history. The concert was given in the new Memorial Coliseum, May 12, 1950, directed by Dr. Lara Hoggard. Dr. Hoggard is one of the directors of the Pennsylvanians.

Fifteen students from Frankfort High School participated in the chorus. Students participating in this chorus must be outstanding in ensemble singing, and have ability to master music.

Lettermen

JERRY SOUTH
Co-Captain

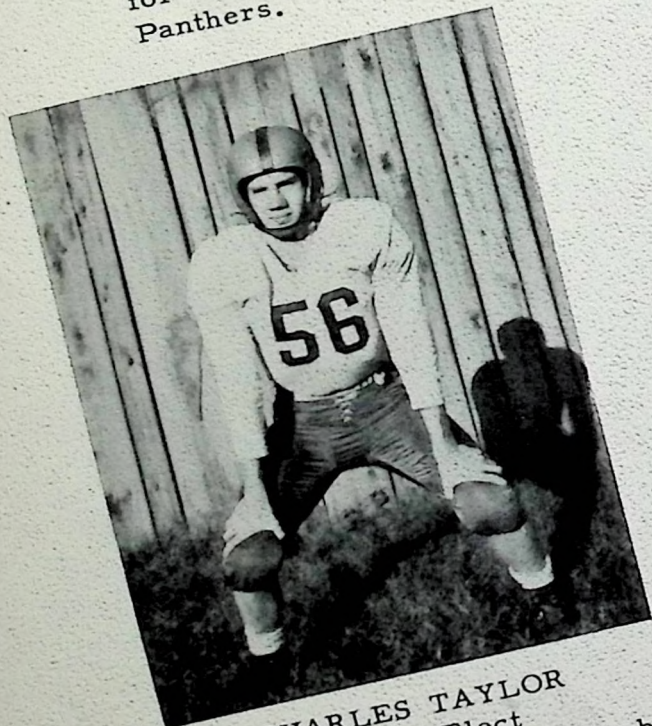

The "Toe's" dependability, leadership, and all round performance leave future Panther linemen a goal to achieve. His steady play gained for him the leadership of the '49 Panthers.

JACK MOORE
Co-Captain

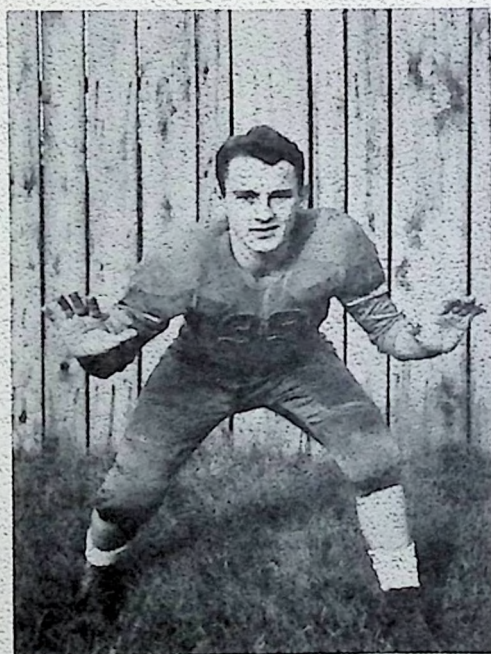

Most Valuable Player

Jack climaxed four years on the gridiron in a grand finale. As co-captain, leading scorer, and most valuable player, he will go down in Panther History as an all time great.

CHARLES TAYLOR
Captain Elect

Next year's team picked the best when Charles was elected to lead them. Poise, alertness, and spirit, qualities every captain needs, are possessed by this powerful halfback.

GORDON TAYLOR

Defense Trophy Award

Sower field will long await another guard of Peaches' caliber. His rugged blocking and tackling won All-State recognition, and the coveted Defensive Trophy Award.

Lettermen

BOB LANCASTER

Although lacking size and weight, Bob's determination made him the team's most spirited player. His dynamic blocking was the key to several touchdowns.

EARL O'NAN

Speed, aggressiveness, and deadly tackling marked Earl's first year at football. He will be greatly missed next year.

CHARLES HUDSON

Monk's first year on the gridiron proved successful. His steady improvement and fighting spirit left a sore impression on his opponents.

TODD CRUTCHER

Todd, another senior first year letterman, held down the tackle position all season like a veteran. His lack of experience was made up by fight and spirit.

BILL CHILTON

"Turn 'em In" lived truly to his name by stopping most anything that threatened the Panther's flanks.

HARRY BRINKMEYER

Harry was generally known as the team scatback. His knifing runs were climaxed by several valuable touchdowns against toughest opposition.

Lettermen

RONNIE RHODY

Ronnie's bone crushing tackles will long be remembered in the C.K.C. This three letterman was the mainstay of the team defensively and offensively.

RUSSELL BROWN

Russ's steady, capable play won this rangy senior his first varsity letter.

BILLY BOWMAN

After four hard years of drudgery, Billy won his first monogram by filling in at the fullback slot.

CLARENCE TAYLOR

"Baby," possessing unusual talents for a sophomore in passing and ball handling, will give Frankfort one of the best Quarterbacks in the schools' history.

BRUCE PARRISH

"Spew's" rugged defensive play and pass snagging ability won him honorable mention of the All-State team.

ROE ROGERS

Injuries plagued this big tackle until the Paris game. Here "Roy" turned in the best performance of his career.

Lettermen

BILLY PURVIS

Sower field will boast another rugged guard next fall. With two more years ahead of him Purvis should find stardom.

HUGH THURMAN

This talented sophomore halfback should become a real threat in the next two seasons. His speed will be a factor of success next fall.

JOE VAUGHN

Next year's forward wall will be anchored by this titanic tackle. Joe's sterling defensive play won him mention on the All-State team.

JACK ROBERTS Manager

TOMMY THOMPSON

Tommy, only freshman to letter, should turn out to be one of Frankfort's great ends with three more years of football.

ADRIEL HARROD Manager

Basketball Lettermen

BRUCE PARRISH
Captain

Bruce's sterling pivot play and sportsmanship led his teammates to elect him as their honorary captain for the season.

JACKIE MOORE

Although short in stature, Jack's deadeye for the basket made him high scorer for the season.

GORDON TAYLOR

Although starting late in the season, "Peaches" rose to be one of the key men in his first year of varsity basketball.

CHARLES HUNTER

"Goose" joined the squad at midterm and immediately became a starter by means of drive and determination.

CLARENCE TAYLOR

Playing his first year of varsity basketball, "Baby" showed the characteristics of being one of F.H.S.'s best basketball players.

Basketball Lettermen

Joe's terrific rebounding ability leaves next year's team with a top-notch pivot man.

DON CRUTCHER

This lanky sophomore, along with Baby, will present the most effective one-two scoring punch for the coming years.

CARLOS WOODS

Being the shortest man on the team didn't stop this scrappy freshman from lettering in his Freshman year.

BILLY MCDONALD

Another mid-term product, Bill played key roles in many of Frankfort's victories.
